

strengthen cooperation in law enforcement, information sharing, technical exchanges and coordinating actions. Information suggests that trade in ivory and their products is still regarded legal in certain European countries. It is hoped that the EU as well as countries in Europe also take credible steps to effectively ban illegal trade in ivory and their products.